1954

The world's elite declared a "quiet war" on the populace where they would deploy "silent weapons" at a meeting they held in 1954, according to a top-secret document that was later found in a surplus copier that had been purchased from Boeing Aircraft in 1986.

"The quality of education given to the lower class must be of the poorest sort, so that the moat of ignorance isolating the inferior class from the superior class is and remains incomprehensible to the inferior class. With such an initial handicap, even bright lower class individuals have little if any hope of extricating themselves from their assigned lot in life. This form of slavery is essential to maintaining some measure of social order, peace, and tranquility for the ruling upper class."

"The weapon is a type of biological warfare. The public cannot comprehend this weapon, and therefore cannot believe that they are being attacked and subdued by a weapon. The public might instinctively feel that something is wrong, but that is because of the technical nature of the silent weapon, they cannot express their feeling in a rational way, or handle the problem with intelligence. Therefore, they do not know how to cry for help, and do not know how to associate with others to defend themselves against it."

"War is therefore the balancing of the systems by killing its true creditors (the public, which we have taught to exchange true value for inflated currency) and falling back on whatever is left of the resources of nature and the regeneration of these resources."

In 1968, the Club of Rome concluded a study on “The Limits of Growth in order to determine a method to arrest the population explosion. It was determined that there would be two points of intervention.

The first was to “lower the birth rate” through the introduction of “mechanical, chemical, and medical procedures.” This included creating a “Women’s Liberation movement” “with the demand for free abortions” as well as the encouragement of a “Gay Liberation” movement, as “Homosexuals do not have children.”

The second was “to increase the death rate”, where they decided, in lieu of picking “people out of a crowd and lining them up for execution”, to “develop a microbe that would attack the autoimmune system.” “This microbe, would be used against the general population and would be introduced by vaccine.”

GEORGIA GUIDESTONES-AMERICA'S STONEHENGE (1980-2022)

The inscriptions on the Guidestones were meant for current and future generations. Sandblasted along the square capstone sitting atop the structure was the basic message: "Let these be guidestones to an age of reason," in Babylonian cuneiform, Egyptian hieroglyphics, Sanskrit, and classical Greek.

"Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature; Guide reproduction wisely, improving fitness and diversity; Unite humanity with a living new language; Rule passion, faith, tradition, and all things with tempered reason; Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts; Let all nations rule internally, resolving external disputes in a world court; Avoid petty laws and useless officials; Balance personal rights with social duties; Prize truth, beauty, love ... seeking harmony with the infinite; Be not a cancer on earth — leave room for nature — leave room for nature."

« In the future it will be a question of finding a way to reduce the population. We will start with the old ... then the weak and then the useless ... and especially the stupid ones.

We will get rid of them by making them believe it is for their own good. We will find something or cause it, a pandemic that targets certain people ... a virus that will affect the old or the fat, it doesn't matter; the weak will succumb to it, the fearful and the stupid will believe it and ask to be treated.

We will have taken care to have planned the treatment, a treatment that will be the solution. The selection of idiots will thus be done ... they will go to the slaughterhouse on their own. »

Scenario Narratives

LOCK STEP

A world of tighter top-down government control and more authoritarian leadership, with limited innovation and growing citizen pushback

In 2012, the pandemic that the world had been anticipating for years finally hit. Unlike 2009’s H1N1, this new influenza strain—originating from wild geese—was extremely virulent and deadly. Even the most pandemic-prepared nations were quickly overwhelmed when the virus streaked around the world, infecting nearly 20 percent of the global population and killing 8 million in just seven months, the majority of them healthy young adults. The pandemic also had a deadly effect on economies: international mobility of both people and goods screeched to a halt, debilitating industries like tourism and breaking global supply chains. Even locally, normally bustling shops and office buildings sat empty for months, devoid of both employees and customers.

The pandemic blanketed the planet—though disproportionate numbers died in Africa, Southeast Asia, and Central America, where the virus spread like wildfire in the absence of official containment protocols. But even in developed countries, containment was a challenge. The United States’s initial policy of “strongly discouraging” citizens from flying proved deadly in its leniency, accelerating the spread of the virus not just within the U.S. but across borders. However, a few countries did fare better—China in particular. The Chinese government’s quick imposition and enforcement of mandatory quarantine for all citizens, as well as its instant and near-hermetic sealing off of all borders, saved millions of lives, stopping the spread of the virus far earlier than in other countries and enabling a swifter post-pandemic recovery.

China’s government was not the only one that took extreme measures to protect its citizens from risk and exposure. During the pandemic, national leaders around the world flexed their authority and imposed airtight rules and restrictions, from the mandatory wearing of face masks to body-temperature checks at the entries to communal spaces like train stations and supermarkets. Even after the pandemic faded, this more authoritarian control and oversight of citizens and their activities stuck and even intensified. In order to protect themselves from the spread of increasingly global problems—from pandemics and transnational terrorism to environmental crises and rising poverty—leaders around the world took a firmer grip on power.

At first, the notion of a more controlled world gained wide acceptance and approval. Citizens willingly gave up some of their sovereignty—and their privacy—to more paternalistic states in exchange for greater safety and stability. Citizens were more tolerant, and even eager, for top-down direction and oversight, and national leaders had more latitude to impose order in the ways they saw fit. In developed countries, this heightened oversight took many forms: biometric IDs for all citizens, for example, and tighter regulation of key industries whose stability was deemed vital to national interests. In many developed countries, enforced cooperation with a suite of new regulations and agreements slowly but steadily restored both order and, importantly, economic growth.

Across the developing world, however, the story was different—and much more variable.

The report detailed how The pandemic would begin when a “virus streaked around the world, infecting nearly 20 percent of the global population and killing 8 million in just seven months”.

This would lead to, “A world of tighter top-down government control and more authoritarian leadership, with limited innovation and growing citizen pushback.”

In their scenario, “national leaders around the world flexed their authority and imposed airtight rules and restrictions, from the mandatory wearing of face masks to body-temperature checks at the entries to communal spaces like train stations and supermarkets.”

The Eternal Chessboard of Powers and Principalities: Which Side Are You On?

In the vast expanse of the cosmos, on the Eternal chessboard of powers and principalities, a never-ending game of chess unfolds, a metaphorical dance of light vs. darkness where at stake is the fate of the souls of mankind.

In this cosmic arena, every man and woman must choose their role among the pieces as they are thrust into the game. Those who try to opt out, through their ignorance, apathy, or inaction, will be forced into assuming the predetermined role of a pawn, where they will become a sacrificial lamb for the betterment of the cosmic players on the side of darkness. This grand spectacle showcases the eternal struggle between powers and principalities, as they marshal their forces to determine the destiny of the universe.

As part of the rules of the game, the powers and principalities of darkness must tell you what they plan to do in advance, but their warning has fallen on deaf ears.

CONTEXT? Almost every word has many shades of meaning and therefore needs to be interpreted by the context.

Context or linguistic context refers to the words and sentences that surround any part of a discourse and that help to determine its meaning. Each of us assign meaning to words differently so it is important that you understand the context that the purveyor is using.

Ex. In 1956 Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev told Western ambassadors My vas pokhoronim!, which is a Russian idiom that means roughly “we will outlast you” – in other words, that communism would prevail in the long run. Against the background of a nuclear arms race.” The West translated the information in English to mean, “We will bury you” which was an altogether more sinister meaning.. Five years later the Cuban missile crisis brought the Soviet Union and the United States to the brink of nuclear war.

-Matthew 7:23

HERE IS WHAT THEY BELIEVE AND WHY THEY ARE SO MAD

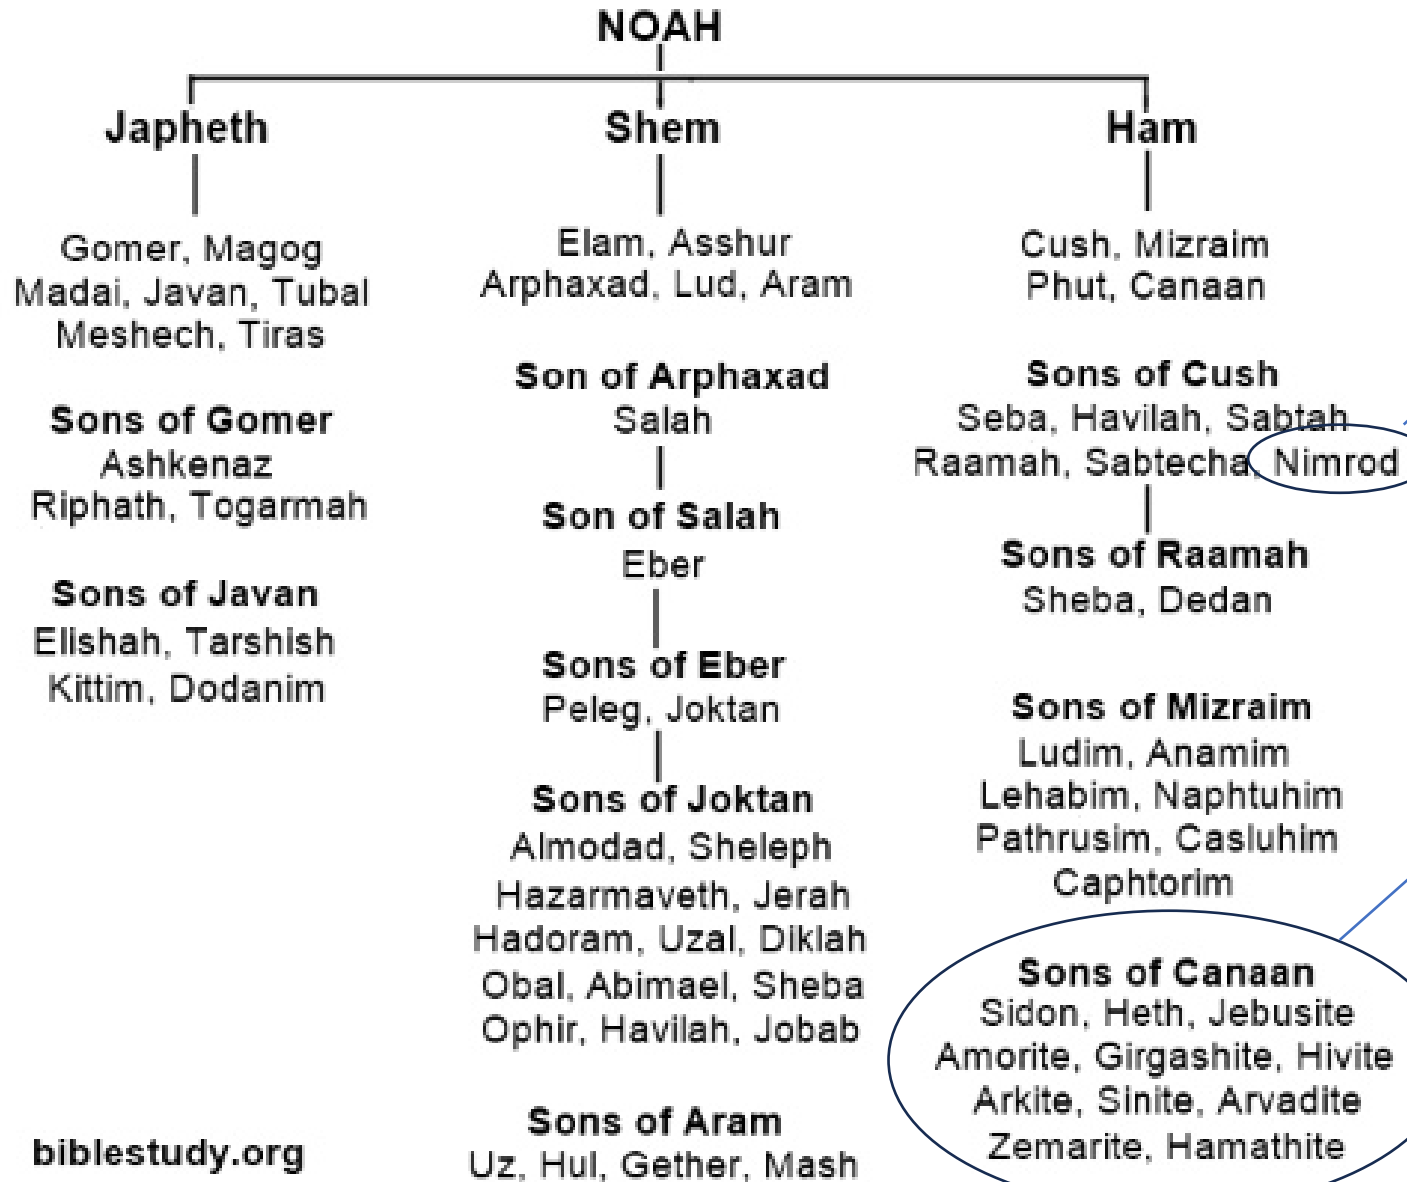

- 1. Lucifer is God, and unfortunately, Adonay is also god.*
- 2. Priests and Rabbis have got it backward, and they are all slandering his name. The true and pure philosophical religion is the belief in Lucifer, the equal of Adonay; but Lucifer, God of Light and God of Good, is struggling for humanity against Adonay, the God of Darkness and Evil.*

TOWER OF BABEL

NIMROD who BUILT THE TOWER OF BABEL IN DEFIANCE AND REBELLION AGAINST GOD (Genesis 10:10; 11:2).

Saturn is also another name for Nimrod who is considered by some Masons to be one of the founders of Masonry. According to the Bible, Nimrod built the Tower of Babel which displeased God, but Masonic writer John Yarker boasts that: “It is well known that the TOWER OF BABEL WAS ONE OF THE MOST ANCIENT TRADITIONS OF MASONRY....”

All other world religions have their start in Babylon at the Tower of Babel which means “Gate of God”.

Nimrod means “He Rebelled.”. God destroyed the tower and scattered the people, confusing their languages.

They took with them the oral tradition passed down from Adam and Eve and created their own version of the prophesized Jesus story and trinity.

Solomon Turns from God 1Now King Solomon loved many foreign women along with the daughter of Pharaoh: Moabite, Ammonite, Edomite, Sidonian, and Hittite women, 2from the nations concerning which the LORD had said to the sons of Israel, “You shall not associate with them, nor shall they associate with you, for they will surely turn your heart away after their gods.” Solomon held fast to these in love. 1 Kings 11:1-2
